

Non-Medical Appraisal Training

Appraisal Training Dates

Course overview

With the launch of a new non-medical appraisal system, the appraisal training is for both appraisees and appraisers, new or experienced. The focus of appraisals has shifted to place emphasis on having regular and meaningful conversations between managers and their staff.

The training will provide a tour of the appraisal system, before exploring how taking time to self-reflect can help us to develop, improve and understand why and how we do things. We will then look at the skills required to really make our conversations meaningful. These may not be new skills but is a time to revisit and check that we are using them as effectively as we can.
