Following the formal part of his report, the Chairman advised the meeting that there had been some interesting times during the year which included increased demand for the Trust's services, tight public finances, total restructuring of the NHS, significant changes in the Trust's senior management, the first year of the merged hospital and community services and, of course, the Keogh Inquiry.

Keogh Inquiry

The Keogh Inquiry had been an ultimate test of the Trust's services but had been welcomed by the Board; it being noted that it had resulted in the Trust emerging as one of three Trusts not in special measures and it had provided overall assurance to the Board.

Board Meetings in Public

The Trust was now required to hold its Board meetings in public and the Chairman encouraged members of the public to attend.

Collaboration

The Trust should utilise every opportunity to meet and co-operate with CCGs, neighbouring Trusts and Social Services.

5. Trust Constitution

The Chairman referred to the Trust Constitution and requested approval to the proposed amendments as follows:-

- To extend the Public Constituency to include the "North of England".
- To include a Public Governor from the North of England on the Council of Governors.
- To extend the term of office for an Appointed Governor who replaces a Governor whose term of office has not expired to a maximum of nine years (from six years) in line with Public Governors.
- To update the rules regarding "Conflicts of Interests".
- To involve Governors in any "significant transaction".

It was noted that the proposed amendments had been discussed and approved by the Council of Governors.

In summary, it was reported that early indications suggested that the Rapid Response Plus Project was a successful and valuable service addition under the Unscheduled Care Strategy and that continued engagement from all delivery partners would ensure continuing improvement of the pathway into the future.

The Chairman thanked the team for their presentation and for the work undertaken to date.
