

Diabetes in Pregnancy

Your own colostrum can help to stabilise your baby's blood glucose levels when they are born: expressing your colostrum before the birth means you can 'bank' your milk for after the birth.

Flow chart for provision of information on lactation for pregnant women with diabetes

